An Educated Student is a Protected Student
LET’S WORK TOGETHER TO KEEP KIDS SAFE FROM HUMAN TRAFFICKING

DID YOU KNOW?

Sex trafficking is an $810 million dollar industry
The average age of entry into sex trafficking is 16 years old
90% of high schools researched across the county reported cases of sex trafficking

The San Diego Trafficking Prevention Collective (SDPTC) is a multistage educational program that combines:
• Early childhood education
• Participatory theatre
• Age-appropriate classroom-based curriculum
All in an effort to decrease the number of children involved in human trafficking in San Diego. Programs are FREE to all San Diego County Public schools.

A few days after the training, two girls disclosed victimization. We were able to support and assist them through the reporting process and provide the appropriate counseling and intervention for them and their families.
TYRA MYLES, RET. SUPERVISING PROBATION OFFICER, GIRLS REHABILITATION FACILITY

I like how much information we were equipped with and how we got to interact with the drama. It took me to a whole other level of understanding human trafficking.
8TH GRADE STUDENT

I didn’t realize how much human trafficking can affect just regular, ordinary kids in my community.
HIGH SCHOOL TEACHER
4 SIMPLE STEPS FOR THE “END TO END” PROGRAM IMPLEMENTATION

1. CONTACT: Schedule PROTECT Trafficking Training at your school by emailing Katy Randall, info@sandiegoTPC.org

2. TRAIN: Complete the PROTECT Trafficking Training through online or in-person curriculum

3. EDUCATE: Implement the PROTECT Classroom Curriculum with your 5th, 7th, 9th or 11th grade students

4. EMPOWER: Schedule kNOw MORE drama-based student training for middle and high school students
   Schedule Project ROOTS social emotional learning program for elementary and middle school students

CONTACT
Katy Randall, Regional Director, San Diego Trafficking Prevention Collective
www.sandiegotpc.org | info@sandiegoTPC.org