Outcomes:

This academy is a professional development opportunity to prepare and train attendees in Human Trafficking Prevention, which is part of the 2019 Health Curriculum Framework.

In addition to providing an overview of human trafficking in San Diego County, this academy includes:

- The definitions of trafficking
- Student vulnerabilities
- Relevant terminology
- Recruitment tactics and signs of grooming
- The legal, emotional, and physical consequences of exploitation
- Access to online curriculum for both distance-learning and classroom instruction, which is supported by the California Department of Education and the California Teachers Association
- How to protect students from this real and dangerous form of modern-day slavery

Provider:

The San Diego Trafficking Prevention Collective is a multistage educational program that combines early childhood education, participatory theater, and classroom-based curriculum to decrease the number of children involved in human trafficking within San Diego County. The Collective is locally sponsored in partnership with the San Diego County District Attorney's Office. For additional information about the Collective, please visit www.SanDiegoTPC.org.
